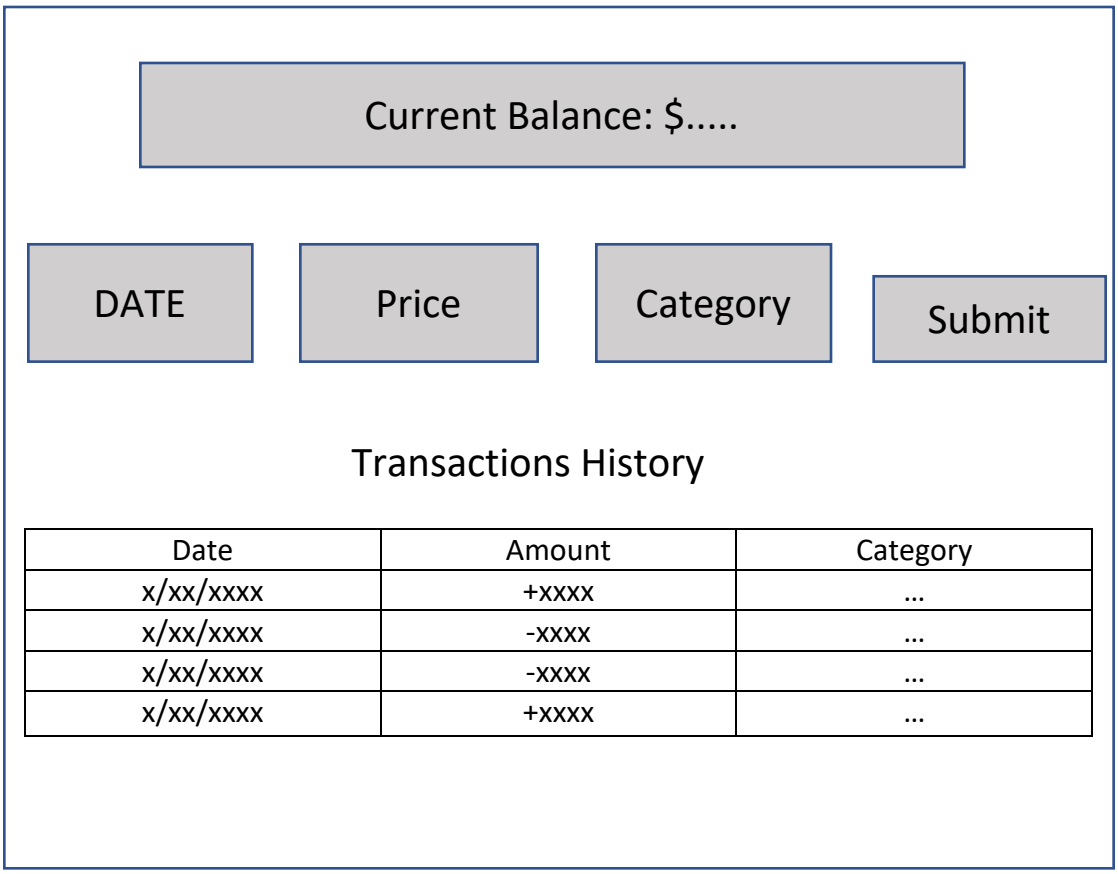
Use Case: Main Screen



- At the top of your display you have your current balance which will fluctuate depending on the different entries.
- Next you add in the date, price and category for your entry.
  - If you are spending money you must indicate a negative price
  - If you are getting money into the account you must indicate a positive price
- Once you click submit that entry will be recorded in the transaction history
  - Your transaction history will be scrollable
- When I took the first couple of screenshots I forgot that I wrote history instead of transaction history so I changed it for the last screenshot
